MARCH 2020

In all we do...
growing disciples for Christ

LENT

Lent is often used as a time to reinstate healthy habits and so for Lent this year, our theme is on well-being and wholeness. Living well is a personal journey that presents each of us with unique opportunities to steward our gifts in all dimensions of our lives. It is up to us to tend these dimensions of our well-being so we may live as resilient people for the sake of the world.

We will use the ELCA Wholeness Wheel for our proclamation, learning and general discussion both on Sundays and Wednesdays in different ways. The Wholeness Wheel illustrates that wellness is multi-dimensional — made up of spiritual, vocational, intellectual, emotional, physical, social, and financial dimensions of well-being. Spiritual well-being is intertwined with and influences our well-being in all other dimensions. The wheel reminds us that being truly healthy and whole is about being in balance and intentionally nurturing all aspects of health surrounded and supported by spiritual health.

As part of focusing on this journey, everyone is invited to take home a Wholeness Wheel and then each week, you can pick up a piece of the pie to paste on the wheel with that week's topic. Each pie piece gives a brief explanation of well-being for that topic and how it applies to each and every one of us. And we have discussion/reflection questions on the back too.

THE WHOLENESS WHEEL

SPRING CLEAN-UP

Spring is in the air and that means Easter is right around the corner. With that, CTK's buildings and grounds need a little sprucing up!

A Spring Clean Up is planned for Saturday, March 7th, at 8:00 a.m. I would also like to try something a little different this year. There is a list of tasks that need to be accomplished located on the bulletin board. This will be an ongoing list so if you see something you would like to do that fits into your time schedule, just contact me or the church office and we'll make sure to have the supplies you need. Once you're done, scratch it off the list! If you see something that needs to be done, add it to the list!

Vicar's Page

I am glad to be back here after a forced time of rest and recovery. Thank you all for your good wishes both in terms of my health and those who cared about our families in Puerto Rico during this period of earthquakes that continues to affect most of the southern region of the island. Fortunately, our families are safe.

During the first two weeks of January, I had the winter session at Luther Seminary. I had the opportunity to take the Public Worship-Leadership in Word and Sacrament course. By the way, I had the opportunity in the class to brag about our beautiful liturgy at Christ the King. Liturgy and ritual indeed are an area of a great passion and interest to me. Some of the information I received in the course I was familiar with, however, much other information was new and enriching. It was interesting to be able to study the basic order of our liturgy and draw the line to the past with the liturgical practices of the early Christians. Knowing and learning that the liturgy we celebrate every Sunday responds to a practice whose origins are nourished from the apostolic tradition itself and which has been theologically thought out in depth over the centuries is truly powerful. Every symbol, phrase, and rite is not brought out of the blue but supported and thought through the centuries. The liturgy embodies a real dynamic and active exercise, not a static and mummified practice through the ages. Liturgy is publicly proclaiming God's mystery. It is a language, not simply a verbal language but also a nonverbal language. It is a ritual language. A language which calls in our different dimensions as human beings - body, mind, spirit.

As an illustration, our Professor Dr. Dirk Lange offered one of the many examples in class of nonverbal dialogue in liturgy. When the ministers bow to the altar acknowledging the presence of God, it would be meaningful and relevant for them to bow to the assembly as well as a way to acknowledge that God is also present in the midst of the assembly—the congregation. The liturgy is definitely the work of God's people in worship. Worship should be an experience that envelops all our senses. It is important that worship doesn't become just a mere cognitive/intellectual exercise; but is an integral experience involving both rational and also emotional. We achieve this when the community that worships is aware that the liturgy is not an individual exercise but a work we do together, collectively - altogether.

Another key point we emphasized in our course is the understanding that at the heart of liturgy is change indeed, or what in theological terms is called metanoia, conversion, transformation. This process of transformation is central to the liturgy because as we know and as previously mentioned, the primary action of liturgy is dialogue. Liturgy is a dialogue with God, an encounter with the one who calls us into community with one another. And as an inevitable result of that encounter, we are changed. Change is always the result of genuine dialogue with another person; since we cannot enter into such dialogue without being open to the perspective of someone other than ourselves. But when the genuine encounter is with God, a profound transformation is called forth. This is not to say, of course, that every liturgical experience result in transformation for every person present. It is not even to say that every liturgical experience is a genuine encounter with God. It is to say that God is fully present in our liturgical celebrations; it is we who are sometimes absent, or reluctant, or resistant to opening ourselves to the transforming dialogue with God which lies at the heart of Christian liturgy.

In conclusion some important questions suggested by our teacher to keep in mind about the liturgy as a community of faith are: How has liturgy included the rituals? Are they merely reflecting cultural values or are they reflecting gospel values? And then how do we reform them? How do we make the liturgy speak the gospel anew for today?

STEWARDSHIP OF SELF: USE MY TALENTS WHATEVER THEY MAY BE

by Don Nellermoe

STEWARDSHIP has several meanings of which we should be cognizant, especially STEWARDSHIP OF SELF. Some churches sing about this type of stewardship on Sundays as their Offertory. "Take my life, etc., Take my hands, etc., Take my voice, etc., Take my silver, etc., Take my intellect, etc., Take my will, etc., and Take my love, my Lord . . ." Perhaps we don't think about what we could offer when we sing these verses, but there are so many good suggestions in this piece to guide us in being Stewards of Self. In place of the word "take" we could substitute "use" as the operative word. This change may make our thinking easier when trying to narrow our choices of what my talents might be. Yes, we all have talents that we often don't use. Some of the best uses that we have can be offset by a simple change of mind or attitude.

Remember the other Offertory verse we used to sing: "We give thee but thine own whatever the gift may be, all that we have is Thine alone, a Trust (or gift) O Lord from thee." This verse alone reminds us that we don't have to give material things, we can do a million other things to give to the Lord. We just need to be thinking about our role in society and how we can help others.

There are so many ways to help others and do things which comprise the Stewardship of Self. When was the last time we did something for someone without being asked to do so? Our society often requires us to do service work for others. Why do we need to be asked to help others? As children of God, and following his word, we just need to do what is needed at home or for a friend or neighbor. Sometimes a neighbor will offer to help if needed. That is called intended Stewardship. I have three neighbors who have made a generous standing offer to me and my wife to call if we need help with anything. How generous of them! Guess that must be because we are older than they are. Where do we fall in the realm of Stewardship of Self? "We Give Thee But Thine Own, Whatever The Gift May Be . . . !" If others can do this service for us, can't we also do something for others?

CTK MUSIC NOTES

We would welcome any music makers who'd like to participate in our worship services. If you give us some information about you and what music you'd like to offer, we can help make it happen!

Please remember, our ensembles (band, choir, handbells) are full of cheerful and busy volunteers who would be happy to welcome you into the group! Some of the current music makers would enjoy the chance to take a 6 week break once you feel comfortable.

We always need more guitar players, drummers, singers, and ringers for our ensembles. Short term (6 week) commitments are a good way to check out an ensemble!

Don't let your gift of music be the best kept secret at CTK.

Soli Deo Gloria!

You can help ship the items donated here at Christ the King. Estimated shipping cost for our items is about $600. There are envelopes in the narthex to support the shipping fund. Make your checks payable to Christ the King and fill in your regular offering envelope number where indicated. Please donate no later than Sunday, March 29.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MY CHRIST THE KING FAMILY

FIRST SUNDAY AFTER

Perhaps you were the one who waved at me as I pulled in the driveway alone for the first time -
Perhaps you were the one to come hug without words in the narthex -
Perhaps you were the one who told me to listen carefully to the words "My Lighthouse" as sung today -
Perhaps you were the one who saw me frozen at the entrance to the church and walked me to "our pew" -
Perhaps you were the one who saw the space always occupied by Tom now vacant, and came to fill it today holding my hand as Tom always did -
Perhaps you were the one who made sure you gave me a special hug during the sharing of the peace -
Perhaps you were the one who tapped my shoulder or my hand or gave a hug on the way to communion -
Perhaps you were the one who gave the sermon about "dislike" when I was praying so hard on that subject -
Perhaps you were the one who said "the first time is the worst" so I knew next Sunday would be easier -
Perhaps you were the one who's prayers carried me home safely from church, that first Sunday after - Whoever you are and whomever you think you might be, I know God was present in each and everyone of you, that first Sunday after.

Thank you,
Cindy Nutt

THE ROOMS HAVE BEEN NAMED! If you missed the building layout display in the narthex showing the new names, here they are:

Fellowship Hall, beginning on the left side adjacent to Vicar Ricardo's office, Faith, Hope, and Love. Joy is the name of the room where the pre-K/nursery kids have been meeting and Peace is the name of the room behind the Fellowship Hall (with the freezer in it). Library remains the Library.

Learning Building, beginning in the main room which is named "I AM". The room adjacent to the storage room is called "The Life". When you walk down the hallway, the room on the left (towards the back of the building) is named "The Truth" and the room on the right is named "The Way".

Choir Room is now the Disciples Room.

Whether you see the name you offered or not, please know that your input was just as instrumental and Inspirational as the names selected. We would not have been able to make the decisions we did without your input. We thank you for your time, submission, and originality. We send a heartfelt "thank you" to those who participated in the naming contest. Now watch for new signs!!

SPECIAL THANKS TO THE FOLLOWING:

Thank you to ... everyone who provided food for the luncheon for Jay Shuler's and Alma Geyer's funeral service. Thank you to the best kitchen crew in Universal City. You are the best!

Thank you to Joyce Lucas for organizing all the Assisting Minister and Acolyte robes!

Thank you to Al Boos III for updating the year on the Paschal Candle.

RACAP Current Pantry Needs

THANK YOU

I would like to express my sincere thanks to all the people at Christ the King for the beautiful Memorial Service conducted for Alma. To Pastor Mike, who was wonderful throughout the preparation, and conducting the Service, to Kathy Staley as Liturgist, to Louise Cruz for playing the piano, to Carol Bearce for the wonderful organ music, and not to forget Margaret Vogt for all her time spent preparing for the service. Thank you for the many cards, the visits, and phone calls. A special thank you to all the great bunch of people who put on the delicious meal in the Fellowship Hall. I can't remember all of you, but you know who you are, so a great big THANK YOU for all the work you did feeding so many people. They say "The Lord Will Provide" and He certainly did with so much food provided by many. Thank you all so much.

Leonard Geyer

WORSHIP ASSISTANT ROBES

ATTENTION all liturgists, communion assistants, acolytes, and others who may wear the white robes during worship. The Worship Committee needs your help to keep the two closets from looking like the picture. We have two closets that have now been rearranged according to robe length: longer robes are hung in the left closet, shorter, in the right closet. Likewise, the robes have been numbered L1 – L19 (long) and S1 - S 19 (short) by a tag on the respective hanger.

We ask that when you robe and disrobe, take a little extra time to ensure you properly hang the robe to keep it looking fresh for the next user and place it in the respective numbered spot. The Worship Committee thanks you for helping us be good stewards of "our stuff".

Soulful Conversations

What is Liturgy? In the June 2019 issue of The Living Lutheran Bishop Eaton wrote, “Liturgy is important . . . It’s a discipline Lutherans willingly undertake because it helps individuals and the entire community express our connection with other Christians throughout the world and across the ages.” Also in the same issue, Meghan Johnston Aelabouni wrote: “As early as A.D. 150, philosopher Justin Martyr identified at least four essential components of worship—gathering, word, meal, sending—that are still found today in Christian (Liturgical added) churches throughout the world.” Still wondering what Liturgy is? Stop by and join the conversation where your input is respected.

We gather in the Library and anyone can pop in any time. The door may be closed during our conversations but our hearts are always open.

Where Mom’s Connect - Are you a mom? Are you parenting children or have parented children? If so, this class is for you! During one hour together, moms connect with each other, connect with the topic, connect with God, and connect to daily living. The class meets in “The Way” room in Bldg 3. The coffee is always ready and there is always enough space. Please join us each Sunday at 9:15 AM. There is a nursery available for young children who are too young for Sunday school.
